JOHN VAN DEN HEUVEL DECLARED "WANTED FUGITIVE" BY INDIAN JUDGE

Dutch Journalist and TV host of the television show 'KIDNAPPED' Joannes Maria Van den Heuvel has been signaled as a wanted fugitive by an Indian Criminal court after the judge has issued his non bailable Indian national Arrest warrants in Insiya Hemani's kidnapping case.

He was indicted by the Indian prosecutors for the attempted kidnapping and abduction of Insiya Hemani from India in October 2016 which was captured on camera. The Indian intelligence had advance information and was following him during his kidnapping mission in India during October 2016.

Insiya's father Shehzad Hemani pressed criminal charges in India against him and others for Insiya's attempted kidnapping and abduction, deprivation of liberty, extortion and criminal conspiracy. An Indian criminal court after going through all the video evidences, other evidences collected by the Prosecutor and after viewing the episodes of Television how KIDNAPPED was convinced that he acts like a mercenary and then indicted him and issued his non bailable arrest warrants and declared him a wanted fugitives in India after he failed to appear in courts after various court summons given to him.

If arrested, John Van den Heuvel will face upto 12 years of rigorous imprisonment in India since the Indian courts and prosecutors have credible evidence which proves that he is part of an international child kidnapping cartel and an organized crime syndicate which abducts and kidnaps children for the television show aired by RTL4.

The Indian foreign affairs, has also contacted their counterparts in Suriname, Spain, Mexico and Turkey among other countries where John van den Heuvel is probably a wanted fugitive for similar child kidnapping offenses and it appears that such countries have assured India for their support to bring the child kidnapper to justice.

A copy of his Indian National Arrest Warrant is enclosed herewith for reference.
