Dear [REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED],

I would like to present myself as staff member of the Flemish central authority on intercountry adoption.

The director, [REDACTED], and another colleague [REDACTED] and myself are planning a working visit to India in order to get more insights on Indians adoption procedures after having assessed to process with other experts such as UNICEF, Child Identity Protection and International Social Services. There are still some unclarities and therefor we would like to meet different stakeholders involved in an adoption procedure.

We will meet CARA at the beginning of our stay and on the 28th of January we will travel to Mumbai.

It would be an honor if we could meet the SCPS and SARA. We believe it would be particularly beneficial to gain a deeper understanding of the entire process through which a child enters the child protection system, as well as the roles and responsibilities of the various stakeholders involved. As you play an important role in the structures, services and advocacy of all stakeholders on child rights and child welfare we are eager to learn more from your work on a state level.

A second focus of our visit pertains to concerns raised regarding potential irregularities in certain adoption cases. Our former Minister of Welfare, Health, and Family, Mrs. Crevits, initiated a process allowing individuals to report any suspicions of abuse or malpractice in their adoption files to our central authority. To date, we have received over 200 such reports. Among these, there are several related to India. Consequently, we are exploring opportunities to collaborate with potential partners who could assist in investigating these cases. In case you might have any ideas or suggestions on this part, we would also be very interested.

We would like to have met you and the colleagues of SARA on Wednesday the 29th of January, according the time of your preference.

Thank you once again for your constructive cooperation. We remain at your disposal for any further questions or interpretations and look forward to hearing from you

Warm regards,

Stafmedewerker – Vlaams Centrum voor Adoptie
